

SURINAME, ST. JOSEPH

Saint Joseph, Barbados

This attractive piece of natural wooded land with mature trees sits on a peaceful, hardly used, off road track which is commonly known as a cart road in Barbados. The land was used some 50 years ago to grow bananas and the soil in the area appears to be rich and fertile. The lot slopes considerably and is tucked away about a mile off the main Horse Hill road that leads down to Bathsheba. The land is on the left about 100 yards before the Naniki restaurant in St. Joseph
