

AMITOLA, COUNTRYSIDE LOT 11

Privately tucked away in a beautifully landscaped tropical garden in the aptly named Countryside neighbourhood in St. Thomas is this 5,000 sq.ft. gorgeous, architecturally designed, Caribbean villa. Adorned throughout with beautifully finished coral stone rendered walls trimmed with wooden doors and windows and polished wrought iron handrails, this villa is something more akin to what you'd find in Sandy Lane as opposed to sitting 800ft above sea level which offers the benefits of cool country breezes blowing over the middle of the island from the east. Designed with an open-plan living space on the first floor to take advantage of the cool tropical breeze, the house is perfect for entertaining upstairs with a patio running the length of the home overlooking the pool. On entering through the front door, one is given the option to go down to the pool with its inner living/entertainment area complete with kitchenette and powder room. See below for more details.
